

Stan Munro

The Toothpick Artist

Elmer's glue and a whole lot of toothpicks – those are the materials that Stan Munro, The Toothpick Artist, uses to build his three-dimensional art!

Stan began building with toothpicks in the 5th grade when his art teacher challenged students to construct a tower that would support the weight of an egg. Stan's toothpick tower not only held the egg but was capable of holding much more. The class kept adding weight to Stan's creation. Only when it was supporting his desk did the toothpick tower finally begin to crack.

He continued building with toothpicks as a hobby through high school and college. In 2005, Stan entered 50 of his designs featuring famous landmarks which he titled, "Toothpick City", in the New York State Fair. The following year, that collection was purchased by the House of Katmandu in Mallorca, Spain. Soon after, Stan began constructing more intricate structures. The collection came to be known as "Toothpick World". Today, you can often find Stan Munro creating his art at the Museum of Science and Technology (MOST) in Syracuse.

When asked what he loves about creating toothpick art, Stan replied that enjoys reading about the history of the structure that he is recreating and studying its architecture.

To date, Stan has constructed over 240 unique pieces of art. His work may be viewed in museums in Syracuse, Baltimore, Spain . . . and now at the Seneca Falls Library!

Come to the library to see a 1:164 scale model of New York City's St. Patrick's Cathedral and the second USS New Jersey BB-62 battleship. Both are on public display at the Seneca Falls Library from October 1 through December 9, 2016.

On December 9th, Stan Munro will help kick off the "It's a Wonderful Life" weekend as he answers questions and inspires children to create their own Star Wars-themed ornament!

The Seneca Falls Library and the Women's Rights National Historical Park partnered to bring a special Halloween movie night to Seneca Falls on October 7th. We showed Tim Burton's Frankweenie (2012) in the park's beautiful lawn in honor of Mary Shelley, who invented the genre of Science Fiction when she wrote Frankenstein at the age of 19. Café XIX provided cookies, hot chocolate, and coffee at reduced prices to keep everyone warm and fed, while Mary Sarratori and other SFL volunteers popped free pop corn for the crowd. The weather was beautiful and turnout was great with an attendance of 215 people! Keep your eyes peeled for news about an upcoming Winter Movie Series and more collaborative programming with the Women's Rights National Historical Park!

Cupcake War!

Creative confectioners declared war at the August 27th Cupcake War baking and decorating fundraiser. Over 30 bakers competed for prizes in several divisions. Judges found the decision of best in each category to be both difficult and delectable. Winners of the contest are as follows:

 Taste: Strawberry Banana Ice Cream Sundae by Tanya Mack; Chocolate Banana with Candied Bacon, Vanilla Cupcakes by Tanya Lent*

 Presentation: Strawberry Banana Ice Cream Sundae by Tanya Mack; Carrot Cupcakes with Coconut, Pineapple, & Nuts, and Coconut Lime by Margaret Henderson*

 Creativity: Rapper's Delight by Abigail Scaglione (featuring Tupac and Biggie) Yellow Duck by Mary Suffredini; S'mores by Chris Butler*

Special thanks to our Judges, and Participants and Sponsors who made this event a great success!

Judges: Jen Cintron, Pastor Terry Fenton, Ginny Demillo Lott
